Whoever shall say

D                    G   A
Unto this mountain

D           G   A

D                    G   A
Be cast into the sea

                         G                    A
and shall not doubt in his heart

         D           G
but shall believe

         G                    A
those things which he says

         D           G
shall come to pass

                 G                    A                    D
he shall have whatsoever he says

         G                    A                    D
So I'll have whatsoever I say
